Please take a minute to read through the following policies before signing.

- The Institute of Modern Spanish, its faculty and staff shall not be held liable for any loss, injury, death of persons, damage, accident, delays or expenses arising from the use of any travel facilities, accommodations or other services in connection with the programs provided herein.
- The Institute of Modern Spanish makes every effort to find the best host family and class situation for each student. If a student feels the host family or student situations are unsuitable, the Institute of Modern Spanish's liability is limited to remedying the situation by finding the student a more suitable situation.
- The host families are provided by the Institute of Modern Spanish as a service to the student, and neither the school nor the family shall be held liable for any illness or injury while the student is studying and/or staying with a host family.
- In case of illness, the Institute of Modern Spanish will direct students to a physician and/or hospital. Medical expenses are not covered by the Institute of Modern Spanish. It is recommended that all students have valid medical insurance and carry a major bank and/or credit card for emergency expenses.
- The Institute of Modern Spanish reserves the right to change rates without prior notice and is not responsible for events beyond its control.
- Classes canceled due to local holidays or weather conditions are not made up.
- There will be no refunds for students electing to take fewer hours of class or to discontinue the homestay. 50% refunds for program payments (excluding registration deposit and services not included in the program) are made when students cancel in writing one week before program initiation date.
- All visitors and participants must adhere to and observe local and family rules and customs, as well as all city, state, and country laws. ZERO TOLARENCE FOR UNDER AGED DRINKING—Parents will be contacted to make arrangements for immediate return trip home.
